State to deploy Sh 7b security equipment to combat banditry

Interior CS Prof Kithure Kindiki says the government's strategy includes equipping security officers with essential tools such as armored personnel carriers and mine-resistant ambush-protected vehicles

BY HAMDY BUTHUL (KNA)

The Cabinet Secretary for Interior and Co-ordination of National Government, Prof. Kithure Kindiki, has announced the imminent roll out of the government's Sh 7 billion state-of-the-art security equipment to bolster safety measures in regions prone to terrorism and banditry in the country.

Speaking during the launch of Eldas South Sub-County at Elnur, in Wajir County, Prof. Kindiki stressed the critical importance of enhancing security measures in areas affected by the threat of terror.

Kindiki underscored the commitment of the Kenya Kwanza administration to safeguard every corner of the country and combat various criminal activities.

"We must ensure that Wajir, Mandera, Garissa, and the entire northern Kenya are safe and secure, just like the rest of the country. This will enable us to open up these regions for development, roads, electricity, and water programs," said CS.

He said that the government's strategy includes equipping security officers with essential tools such as armored personnel carriers and mine-resistant ambush-protected vehicles. In addition to equipment deployment, the CS announced the recruitment and training of National Police Reservists (NPRs) starting first of March to complement multi-agency security personnel in combating terrorism financiers and orchestrators.

He said plans also entail the operationalization of Sub-Counties in Wajir County and other regions to enhance accessibility to government services.

The government has unveiled a comprehensive

Investor to spend Sh4.8 billion to revive fluorspar mining in Elgeyo Marakwet

BY WAGEMA MWANGI (PCO)

Kenya's mining sector has achieved a significant boost after a strategic investor embarked on the process of spearheading the revival of fluorspar mining at Kimwarer in El-geyo Marakwet County, in a deal expected to pump in over Sh4.8 billion into the plant.

Negotiations over the project have already been completed, with terms agreed upon, paving the way for the long-overdue resumption of fluorspar mining in the region after a seven-year hiatus.

The Principal Secretary of the State Department for Mining, Elijah Mwangi, says the revival of fluorspar mining in Kimwarer is part of the execution of a deliberate game plan by the department, which entails seeking strategic investors to tap into the vast potential of Kenya's mineral resources.

5-year security equipment modernization plan, costing an estimated Sh. 37 billion.

Detailing the acquisition process, the CS disclosed an expenditure of approximately Sh. 7 billion over the past year for the procurement of security equipment.

The upcoming consignments include drones and other modern surveillance equipment, with the second consignment expected within two months, and gunship helicopters and other aerial mobility equipment slated to arrive within a year.

Kindiki at the same time installed Samuel Mokua as the first Deputy County Commissioner of the Sub-County Headquarters.

The move is part of a broader government initiative to decentralize administrative functions and bring governance closer to the citizens.

Local leaders and residents welcomed the development, expressing hope that it would bring about positive changes in their daily lives.

The CS was flanked by Regional Commissioner John Otieno, Wajir County Commissioner Karuku Ngumo, Wajir Governor Ahmed Abdullahi, Senator Abass Sheikh, Eldas MP Adan Keynan, Wajir East MP Adan Daud, Wajir West MP Yussuf Farah, Wajir South MP Mohamed Adow, and Wajir Woman Representative Fatuma Jehow along with county staffs.

as a timely move, the PS noted that the resumption of fluorspar mining would not only generate revenues for national and county governments but also catalyze the creation of hundreds of direct jobs for residents.

He added that the investor would also engage in community-benefiting programs and activities through the terms agreed upon under the Community Development Agreement Committee (CDAC) as per the Mining Act 2016.

“We are delighted by this progress. Our aim is to ensure that mining is a profitable undertaking not only for the investors but also for the communities where the mineral resource is located. In the end, everyone should be a winner,” the PS said.

The revival of the fluorspar mine has been received with excitement by residents and leaders of Elgeyo Marakwet County, who have been agitating for the revival and activation of what they deemed a dormant economic resource with vast economic potential.

While pledging to support this critical industry, county officials termed the planned resumption of operations as timely and pledged to create a conducive environment for the investor to operate in.

County Executive Committee Member (CECM) in charge of Lands, Physical Planning, Housing, and Urban Development, Thomas Maiyo, said the project had the potential to benefit the residents and would be central to accelerating development, spurring growth, and positively impacting lives in the region.

He added that the county leaders were willing and ready to assist in addressing challenges related to the project as part of ensuring the investor and the residents benefited from the fluorspar resource.

“We have long waited for this plant to roar back to life. While we are pleased with the progress made, we want to encourage the investor to fast-track the remaining processes so that the operations can start as soon as possible,” he said.

PS addresses concerns over healthcare professional exodus to foreign capitals

BY ERASTUS GICHOHI (KNA)

The Principal Secretary of the State Department for Public Health, Ms. Mary Muthoni Muriuki, has defended the government's plan to export qualified health professionals to other countries, which she said will ease unemployment in the country.

Muthoni said the plan seeks to accommodate and offer a life-line to thousands of graduating health professionals, especially nurses, from local colleges and universities.

The PS stated that each year, over 20,000 well-trained nurses graduate from the Kenya Medical Training Colleges and other local institutions in the country, with only a handful of them employed locally.

Additionally, the PS mentioned that current data has necessitated the move to enter a Memorandum of Understanding with foreign countries to export qualified personnel.

So far, Kenya has signed an MOU on health partnership with the United Kingdom [UK], which will see a total of 20,000 nurses sent to UK hospitals by 2025, highlighting local nurses' competitive edge.

Consequently, the government last year signed a bilateral labor agreement with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, which seeks to regulate the export of skilled workforce to the Gulf nation, through which 2,500 nurses will benefit.

Ms. Muthoni dismissed the Council of Governors' concerns over the high number of health professionals leaving the country, noting that Kenya has more qualified nurses than those absorbed, and the move will not jeopardize local healthcare services.

"The government strives to ensure that the range of trained healthcare professionals are compatible and adhere to both local and international health standards while discharging their duties," the PS said.

Speaking in Naivasha during a stakeholder meeting to develop the Quality of Care Bill [2024], Muthoni said the government is committed to overhauling the healthcare system to address the existing gaps in affording and accessing quality healthcare services.

The PS said the bill, which touches on the core mandate of the Social Health Insurance Act [SHIA], will address the underlying quality of healthcare services, products offered, and personnel. In addition, the bill, which will come into force in the next three months, will see the fixing of flagged dilapidated health and diagnostic equipment and the deployment of qualified personnel, which will help lower the mortality rate in local facilities.

Muthoni said Ministry of Health officials are currently holding public participation forums on the Social Health Insurance General regulations across the country before it's rolled out in the coming months.

Under the Social Health Insurance Act, of 2023, the government seeks an overhaul of the current National Health Insurance Fund that has previously been plagued by corruption claims worth billions of shillings. The SHI Act establishes three new funds which include Primary Healthcare Fund, Chronic and Critical Illness Fund as well as Social Health Insurance Emergency Fund all geared towards easing access and financing of healthcare to every citizen.

The government has proposed a cap of 2.75 per cent cut of an employee's gross salary and a minimum contribution of Sh300 for low-income earners to fund and accelerate the rollout of the noble initiative.

To ensure every citizen boards the Universal Health Coverage train, the government will cater for medical bills for the most vulnerable members of society including the elderly.

NACADA sounds alarm as bhang consumption skyrocket in Kenya

BY SADIK HASSAN (KNA)

The National Authority for the Campaign against Alcohol and Drug Abuse (NACADA) has raised the alarm over the rise in the use of bhang in the country.

During a night raid on bhang dens in Mtwapa, Kilifi County, NACADA Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Dr. Anthony Omerikwa regretted that consumption of the narcotic has risen by 90 percent in the last five years, becoming a major concern.

“Consumption of bhang in the last five years has gone up by 90 percent, and this is based on 2022 research. Nearly a million Kenyans are using cannabis sativa, that is, one in every 53 people is using this drug in the country,” Dr. Omerikwa said.

Two people were arrested during the raid at a private residence in the Kwa Gowa area, Mtwapa, which authorities believe is used as a bhang depot.

“We have apprehended two suspects with 435 rolls and assorted brooms of Cannabis sativa. One we suspect is the distributor and the other one is the consumer. We have also confiscated his motorbike, which was his mode of conveying the substance,” Dr. Omerikwa confirmed.

NACADA CEO Dr. Anthony Omerikwa addressing the media in Mtwapa, Kilifi County after conducting the raid where two people were arrested with 438 rolls of bhang

Police attached to NACADA, acting on a tip-off from the public, raided the three-bedroom house, where the huge consignment was hidden and undergoing packaging ready for distribution within the coastal region.

This is the second raid after a similar one was conducted last month, where several shisha dens, which were operating illegally, were shut down, and owners charged in court.

“We have been able to get information that indeed these drugs are transported from Migori. We have leads on who transports it, and we are soon going to get them. We have begun the investigations, and we will soon nab the suppliers,” the NACADA CEO stated.

The agency has intensified crackdown on all forms of drugs in the coastal region with the target of bringing to book the big drug barons, with consumption of heroin and other drugs having taken a toll on coastal youth for decades.

“The government’s stand on drugs is that the use of illegal drugs is not allowed, we will pursue these individuals to ensure this menace is addressed,” Omerikwa said, adding that parents and politicians should work together to eradicate the scourge.

He further said NACADA will not relent in its war on drugs and substance abuse.

Data from a NACADA survey reveals that 518,807 Kenyans aged 15-65 years are currently using cannabis, translating to a national prevalence rate of 1.9 percent.

The report dubbed, ‘Status of Drugs and Substance Use (DSU) in Kenya, 2022,’ says of this figure 475,770 are male while 43,037 are female.

It showed that a total of 193,430 youth aged 15 - 24 years (one in every 37) were currently using cannabis, translating to a 2.7 percent prevalence.

The figure for those aged 25 - 35 years stands at 174,142 (one in every 48) translating to a 2.1 percent prevalence rate.

Kenya's creative industry takes leap forward with Hollywood partnership

BY MONICA OMORO AND KNA

The government has partnered with the US-based Hollywood Invention Studios to support and promote the production of Kenyan stories through film and television.

Speaking during a press briefing at Talanta Hela Plaza, Nairobi, the Cabinet Secretary for Youth Affairs, Creative Economy, and Sports, Ababu Namwamba, stated that through this partnership, the creative industry in Kenya has taken a significant leap with the US-based studio.

The partnership follows President William Ruto's pronouncement during last year's Jamhuri Day celebration that Innovation Studios would initiate ate productions in Kenya in February 2024.

The CS mentioned that after a meeting held in September last year with key partners and the Kenyan government, three important agreements were signed on behalf of the government and its partners.

These agreements included the National Basketball Association (NBA) from the USA bringing NBA events to Kenya, the Grammys extending benefits to African music, and the Invention Studios partnering with the film industry.

"Today, we are delighted that the government, in association with the Kenya Film Association, has officially partnered with the Invention Studios of the USA to elevate the Kenyan film industry to the next level," the CS concluded.

He said the signing of the partnership between the ministry and Invention Studios follows a successful three-day official visit he made to Los Angeles to seek partnerships to foster the Kenyan Creative Sector during which he attended the 66th Grammy Awards Ceremony.

Namwamba added that Kenya is ready to take its space in the film industry, as a destination of choice.

He termed the deal as historic and revolutionary, noting that Kenya will have exchange programs with elite film makers to enable the country to have serious movies, films, and TV shows curated and shot in it.

He added that Kenya will also provide incentives packages, liaison services, locations, and foster further partnerships with equipment rental companies.

"My Ministry, through the State Department of Youth Affairs and Creative Economy has the responsibility of youth empowerment and development of the creative industry as a key driver of the economy. "The Ministry has brought form, life, order and direction in the sports and creative industries and positioned Kenya for a pivotal role, attracted investors, and signed partnership agreements aimed at turning around these sectors," Namwamba said.

The CS added that the ministry has planned to hold a meeting with over 500 stakeholders, including directors, actors, media, script writers and other responsible members who make the industry tick.

"This deal is not a measure taken in a haphazard manner, but it's all part of the plan to improve the creative industry and the lucrative measures, to position Kenya as a destination of choice for film making," he stated.

MCK boss urges radio practitioners to uphold professional standards

BY MERCY OSONGO (KNA)

The Media Council of Kenya (MCK) is urging media practitioners in the radio industry to uphold ethical and professional standards in their work. Speaking during the national celebrations of World Radio Day 2024 at a hotel in Kisii, MCK Chief Executive Officer (CEO) David Omwoyo said radio remains a trusted source of information for many Kenyans, and the sanctity of the radio space must be retained. Mr. Omwoyo noted that the introduction of technology had given rise to many radio channels due to reduced costs associated with on-air production, leading to low production standards and poor pay for journalists. Omwoyo consequently challenged media owners to employ and provide decent wages for trained journalists who spend more than three years learning the art of becoming well-rounded radio journalists. Further, the CEO urged journalists in the radio space to take advantage of mentorship programs offered by veteran journalists to hone their skills.

The Communication Authority of Kenya Director-General, Mr. David Mugonyi, who was represented by Fred Ambani, expressed the Authority's commitment to delivering on its statutory responsibility of licensing and regulating communication services in Kenya.

In a speech read on her behalf by Oscar Otieno, Data Commissioner Ms. Immaculate Kassait acknowledged the role radio has played in providing lifesaving information.

Konza City set for Science Parks delegates attending landmark IASP

BY RACHAEL KILONZO (PCO)

ICT and the Digital Economy PS, Eng. John Tanui, has underlined the crucial role played by Science Parks and Areas of Innovation in transforming the country's economy and that of the African continent at large.

Eng. Tanui, who is also the President of the International Association of Science Parks (IASP) Africa Division, noted that this is a special year for the Africa Division as it gets ready to host global leaders from Science Parks and Innovation districts in Africa and Kenya for knowledge sharing.

The PS, who was speaking during the IASP International Board Meeting held at the IASP head Office at the Málaga TechPark in Spain, where he was joined by the IASP President, Ms. Lena Miranda (Linköping Science Park, Sweden), noted that the experiences of Global Science Parks offer opportunities for Africa to advance swiftly into the 4th Industrial era with science, technology, and innovation taking the center stage.

"This is happening at a significant time when the African Continent is experiencing rapid urbanization due to digital transformation and increased acceleration action aligned with SDG goals in this decade of action. We reviewed the past one year's progress of the network and plans for this year," said Eng. Tanui.

He assured the Global Board that Kenya and the entire IASP African Division are ready for the 41st IASP conference set to be hosted by the Konza Technopolis Development Authority from September 24th to 27th this year in Nairobi.

The association's annual strategy meeting that took place on 12th-14th February 2024 was chaired by Ms. Miranda and was aimed at discussing the association's future strategy and outlining the path for IASP to follow in the year to come.

"I am proud of being part of this global community and it is a privilege to be sharing thoughts and opinions with international colleagues to help guide the strategy of the network, said Ms Miranda.

EAC member states collaborate to fight Lake Victoria pollution crisis

BY CHRIS MAHANDARA (KNA)

The East African Community (EAC) countries have pledged to jointly conserve Lake Victoria, which is threatened by rising pollution.

Delegates from the seven EAC partner states stated that the delicate lake ecosystem, a mainstay for millions of people in the region, faces myriad challenges, with pollution identified as a major threat.

Lake Victoria Basin Commission (LVBC) Executive Secretary, Dr. Masinde Bwire, stated that pollution in the lake has increased by 50 per cent over the last four decades, posing a danger to human and aquatic life.

He mentioned that raw sewage, industrial effluents, and tonnes of plastics are washed into the lake from Kenya, Uganda, and Tanzania, threatening to kill the world's second-largest freshwater lake.

Sedimentation loading from the three states and neighboring Rwanda and Burundi, he added, is also a significant challenge that, if not addressed, will greatly affect the lake's existence.

Speaking in Kisumu

during the 22nd Sectoral Council of Ministers on Lake Victoria Basin (SECOM-LVB), Dr. Bwire said that the effects of pollution have already started being felt, and if not urgently addressed, the situation is likely to get out of hand.

He pointed out the dwindling fish stocks in the lake, adding that some of the species that once existed in the water body are now extinct due to rapid pollution.

To reverse the tide, LVBC, an East Africa Community (EAC) institution responsible for coordinating sustainable development of the Lake Victoria Basin, has organized a scientific conference in November where experts will engage and present papers on how to restore and conserve the lake.

This, he added, will be followed by Lake Victoria Day to call all the agencies to action and ensure that the lake is given prominence in all conservation programmes within the EAC.

The Sectoral Council of Ministers on Lake Victoria Basin (SECOM-LVB) is the governing body of the Commission which provides the strategic direction to the Commission for the benefit of the people of East Africa.

The meeting was attended by Kenya's Shipping and Maritime Principal Secretary Geoffrey Kaituko, Burundi's Environment Permanent Secretary (PS) Emmanuel Niyungeko, Rwanda Environment Permanent Secretary (PS) Patrick Karera, South Sudan Ministry of Water representative Eng. Chut Isaack Permanent Secretary for Water Alfred Okidi, Tanzania's Water

Permanent Secretary (PS) Prof. Jamal Katundu and Tanzania's Ambassador to Kenya Dr. Benard Kibise.

Kenya's PS for Shipping and Maritime Geoffrey Kaituko said collaboration between the EAC member states was key in the conservation of the water body.

Kenya, he added, was partnering with Uganda and the United Republic of Tanzania to enhance safety within the lake.

Patrick Karera, the PS for Environment in Rwanda said his Ministry has rolled out several programmes to control soil erosion and pollution.

"We are sensitizing our farmers on proper agricultural practices to ensure that our soil is not washed into the lake," he said.

His Tanzania counterpart Prof. Jamal Katundu said the good relations between partner states was key in harnessing joint conservation of the lake.

State initiative targets training reforms for maritime sector

BY HANIFA TAMIM (PCO)

The Government has unveiled a multifaceted strategy encompassing vessel inspections, leadership appointments, and reforms in seafarer training in a landmark move aimed at enhancing safety and efficiency in Kenya's maritime sector.

The initiative, spearheaded by Cabinet Secretary Salim Mvurya and Principal Secretary Geoffrey Kaituko, is a proactive approach to foster sustainable growth and bolster regulatory frameworks within the maritime sector.

The announcement was made following a high-level meeting convened in Mombasa, where top officials from key maritime entities including the Kenya Maritime Authority (KMA), Bandari Maritime Academy (BMA), and Kenya National Shipping Line (KNSL) deliberated on strategic measures to propel the industry forward. Central to the agenda was the imminent commencement of marine vessel inspections, slated to begin on April 1st.

CS Mvurya underscored the significance of the exercise, emphasizing its pivotal role in ensuring the seaworthiness of vessels operating within Kenyan waters.

With a focus on vessels measuring 24 meters and below, the inspection campaign aims to enforce compliance with regulatory standards and enhance safety protocols.

"We want to ensure that these vessels meet the prescribed criteria and operate within a safe environment," Mvurya stated.

"Through comprehensive inspections and registration processes, we seek to bolster our capacity for managing rescue operations and maintaining an accurate database of maritime assets," he said.

He highlighted the government's commitment to facilitating the inspection process by offering a waiver for vessel owners, thereby removing financial barriers to compliance.

The Kenya Maritime Authority will spearhead the implementation of the inspection campaign, working in collaboration with relevant stakeholders to ensure its effectiveness.

UK honors 15 Western Kenya veterans for World War II service

BY GEORGE KAIGA (KNA)

United Kingdom (UK) High Commissioner to Kenya Neil Wigan has honored 15 veterans from Western Kenya who served in the British Army during World War II from 1939 to 1945.

Speaking during the Award Ceremony held at the Kakamega Sports Club, Wigan said the medals are a symbol of the British Government's appreciation not only to the Kenyan veterans but also to those across the Commonwealth who fought with the UK and contributed to peace in the world.

United Kingdom (UK) High Commissioner to Kenya, Neil Wigan, bequeaths a medal to Ex-Private, Kipsang Arap Baragetuny, from Nandi County.

"I'm proud to represent the UK and honor the service of these great men, to ensure their contribution is not forgotten," he said.

The High Commissioner mentioned that the medal replacement is part of a wider initiative to honor the vital role played by Kenyan veterans who participated in World War II and replace lost medals.

In addition to replacing lost medals for the veterans, the UK Government through the Royal Commonwealth Initiative has continued to support veterans and widows with welfare grants to meet their family needs.

These grants, equivalent to the cost of two meals a day, make a significant improvement in the welfare of 829 Askaris and widows. The initiative is administered through the British Legion (Kenya), with significant assistance from the Kenyan Defence Forces and the Old Comrades Association.

The 15 veterans awarded were Joseck Odambi Okwako, Wilson Nzosi Litasa, Meshack L. Musire, and Joseph Murana from Kakamega County. Boaz Akoto Kehodo, Musa Ombazi Lusina, Laban Kehenzi Kidaki, and Philemon Mudamba from Vihiga County were also among those honored.

Others were Laboso Kipkemoi Cheruiyot, Helly Kipng'eno Ngetich, Cheruiyot A N'geny, and Paul Kipkoech Barchok from Kericho County.

Also awarded was William Sitini Wanjala from Bungoma County and Joshua Korigo Barno and Kipsang Arap Barg'etuny from Nandi County.

This was the fourth such ceremony to take place on Kenyan soil.

Mwea rice farmers enjoy surge in production after Thiba Dam completion

BY MUTAI KIPNGETICH AND DAVID WANDETO(KNA)

Mwea Rice Farmers have recorded increased yields since the completion of Thiba Dam over a year ago, following reports that the scheme is currently producing an annual estimate of 114,000 metric tonnes for the last three years.

Mwea Irrigation Settlement Scheme (MIS) is in Kirinyaga County and falls within two sub-counties: Mwea East and Mwea West Sub-Counties.

The development of the scheme started in 1954 in the Tebere section with about 65 acres in irrigation farming and has since grown to the current gazetted area of 30,050 acres.

The scheme manager, Mr. Innocent Ariemba, said the expansion of the scheme is due to support from the national government and development partners.

The Japanese International Corporation Agency (JICA) is a major partner that has constructed the Nyamidi Water intake, Mwea Irrigation Agricultural Development (MIAD) research center, and the Thiba Dam.

The completion of Thiba Dam, which has ensured a steady supply of water, has almost doubled production to about 220,000 metric tonnes.

An overview of Thiba Dam in Kirinyaga county.

The dam, which is 40 meters deep and one kilometer long, helps stabilize water supplies in Mwea Irrigation Scheme, allowing farmers to double rice crop production.

However, in the first year of completion, the country experienced severe drought, and the dam did not collect enough water to reach full capacity. After the long rains, the dam was filled to the brim, releasing water to the Thiba River via a spillway.

This year, all farmers will do double cropping, relying on water storage in the dam in case of low rains.

Dairy farmers to benefit from state intervention as milk prices increase

BY DPCS

Dairy farmers will start earning more following interventions by the government to deal with a milk glut in the country.

Deputy President Rigathi Gachagua said the government has allocated Sh900 million to the Kenya Cooperative Creameries (KCC) to buy the milk to prevent prices from dropping due to excess production.

The milk prices will rise to Sh50 per litre from Sh45 beginning March 1, 2024, and the government aims to further increase the prices to over Sh60 per litre in the coming months.

"As a government, we have released Sh900 million to stabilize the prices in the milk sector after a glut resulting from heavy rains. Prices at Kenya Cooperative Creameries will be raised from Sh45 per litre to Sh50 starting March 1st and up to Sh60 in the coming months," Mr. Gachagua said.

The DP urged dairy farmers to supply milk to the New KCC to earn more.

Mr. Gachagua spoke when he attended a Holy

Mass at St. Andrew Kag-gwa Catholic Church in Kwanza Constituency, Trans Nzoia County, where he presided over a fundraiser for building the new premises for the church.

The Deputy President also urged farmers in Trans Nzoia to increase acreage under maize, stating that the government had released adequate subsidized fertilizer, which is being sold at Sh2,500 per 50kg bag.

"Trans Nzoia County is important in our country's food security. The subsidized fertilizer is readily available here. We thank Governor George Nitembeya for ensuring the last-mile distribution of the fertilizer," said the Deputy President who discouraged the farmers against selling all their harvests asking them to keep some for domestic consumption.

At the same time, the DP warned teachers against sending home Junior Secondary School learners for lack of school uniform or desks saying stern action will be taken against them. He urged the teachers to allow parents enough time to buy the uniform for their children. "Let them not send our children home over levies and unnecessary fees introduced at the school. Any teacher defying the government's orders will face stern action," he warned.

Mr Gachagua also called on leaders in Trans Nzoia to keep the existing unity in the cosmopolitan county for enhanced development. "This is a cosmopolitan county with members of different communities living here. We thank the leaders led by the governor for maintaining peace. As people of Trans Nzoia, continue to love one another and peacefully coexist," said the Deputy President.

Further, has asked leaders in the Western region to unite for the benefit of the people in the region.

"We congratulate the western leaders for the effort to unite the people. I call on the leaders to continue uniting the people and behind the President for the good of our country," said Mr Gachagua.

The DP welcomed the move by Governor Nitembeya to work with the government despite being elected on an opposition party.

BY EVALYNE GITHINJI (PCO)

Kenya stands to gain from Smart City initiatives in enhancing the quality of life of its citizens by promoting economic growth and fostering environmental sustainability.

Kenya, Germany to adopt bilateral Labour mobility for their people

BY JULIUS NDEGWA(PCO)
in BERLIN

Kenya and Germany have kicked off negotiations which will culminate in the adoption of a Bilateral Labour Agreement to facilitate labour mobility between the two countries.

A technical committee comprising representatives from both governments has been constituted and directed to immediately initiate the development of a labour mobility framework for the two countries.

This decision was reached following a meeting between Kenya's Cabinet Secretary for Labour and Social Protection, Ms Florence Bore and Mr. Hubertus Heil, Minister for Labour and Social Affairs of the Federal Republic of Germany, held in Berlin Germany.

CS Bore, who led a strong Kenyan delegation of Labour and Foreign Affairs officials during the mission said the task force is expected to draft a labour Mobility framework in which migration will be fast-tracked through minimising bureaucracy.

"I can now officially announce that we have started the process that is meant to address the issue of shortage of skills in the Germany labour market as well as the surplus of skilled and non skilled labour in Kenya", said the CS who was flanked by the Principal Secretary State Department for Diaspora Affairs, Ms. Roseline Njogu.

Both CS Bore and her German counterpart acknowledged that the agreement arrived at will be a result of an initiative that was conceptualized during exchange of high level visits between President William Ruto and Olaf Scholz, Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany in March and May 2023 respectively.

"Following the discussions, it was agreed that a task force drawing membership from both countries be constituted to develop a labour mobility framework which will allow migration of Kenyan Skilled workers to Germany in a safe, orderly and regular manner"

CS Bore gave assurances that the Kenyan Government has put in place measures to streamline labour migration through restructuring its policy, legal and institutional framework to support a seamless migration of Kenyan workers to key foreign destination markets.

"Indeed, we are grateful to the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany for considering Kenya as the first country in sub-Saharan Africa and the second country in the entire African continent with whom to sign a labour mobility Agreement with" said the CS who also held separate meeting with the country's Commissioner for Migration Dr. Joakim Stamp.

Village-based vocational training transforms lives in arid zones

BY DICKSON MWITI (KNA)

At least 140 young men and women from pastoralist communities have graduated after undergoing three months of training through a program dubbed 'Ujuzi Manyatani,' organized by the Northern Rangeland Trust Trading.

The Trust operates in counties in the Northern Frontier zone, and the Ujuzi Manyatani is a vocational training delivery model in which Technical and Vocational Training Education Institutions place trainers in villages to teach marketable skills.

As such, Ujuzi Manyatani provides access to learning for people from disadvantaged socio-economic backgrounds and those who have not been able to access formal education.

It enables pastoralists to acquire practical vocational skills where other training facilities are absent, without disrupting their way of life.

Trainers and tools move across villages to provide equal opportunities to all ethnic groups.

The program offers several vocational courses including tailoring and dressmaking, vessel repair and maintenance, hairdressing, beauty therapy, masonry, catering, plumbing, motorcycle repair, and maintenance as well as mobile phone repair.

Speaking during the graduation ceremony, TVET Principal Secretary Dr. Esther Muoria commended the champions behind the transformative initiative led by former East African Community and Regional Development PS Dr. Kevit Desai, who is the Chairman of NRT Mashiani Works.

Dr Kevit Desai said this was an inspiring initiative and an innovation within the context of providing skills to young people.

Malindi's parks to get makeover to attract tourists, enhance recreation

BY EMMANUEL MASHA AND STELLA KANINI (KNA)

The Malindi Municipality Board has embarked on the rehabilitation and beautification of all parks and gardens in Malindi town to provide recreational facilities to the residents and attract tourists.

The Malindi Municipal Manager, Eng. Johnson Mwabati, says the main objective is to give Malindi a facelift and return it to its former glory when it was voted the cleanest town in East and Central Africa at the beginning of this century.

The first to be rehabilitated will be the Mekatilili wa Menza Gardens, next to the Malindi Museum Complex, a building that used to be the residence of the famed Arthur Champion, whom historians and Mijikenda cultural enthusiasts say was slapped by Mekatilili on August 13, 1913.

The Board and other officials of the County Government of Kilifi held a public participation session at the Malindi Museum Complex last week on the proposed rehabilitation of the garden, formerly known as Uhuru Garden, where local leaders and residents welcomed the project.

“This is a very vital project, and in our view as a municipality, it will attract both local and international tourists because we have realized that there is a lot of congestion at Buntwani SeaFront Park during festivities because this small garden is not attractive,” Eng. Mwabati said. “That is why we set aside a little amount of money to rehabilitate and beautify it so that it can be attractive to local and international tourists wishing to relax and sample the coastal ambiance in Kilifi County,” he said.

Child protection units set up to safeguard vulnerable youth

BY ROBERT OJWANG(KNA)

The Ministry of Gender, Culture, the Arts, and Heritage, in partnership with the National Government Affirmative Action Fund (NGAAF), has established two Child Protection Units (CPUs) at Ahero Police Station in Nyando and Kasagam Police Station in Kisumu East.

The objectives of these units include providing safe spaces for children in conflict with the law or those who are victims of crime. Additionally, they seek to address the rising cases of physical and sexual abuse among young people in the lakeside county.

Speaking at the launch, Gender Cabinet Secretary Ms. Aisha Jumwa affirmed that the move is part of a commitment by the government and development partners to establish CPUs and rescue centers in the fight against Gender-Based Violence (GBV), especially among vulnerable children.

“The Units will provide temporary shelter and psychosocial support services to the GBV survivors, the majority of whom are children and women, as they navigate the justice system,” CS Jumwa stated.

She said the CPU will protect children from direct contact with perpetrators who might seek to compromise them or interfere with evidence that can be used in prosecution.

“In most cases, children suffer violence, exploitation, negligence, abuse, and even defilement from their relatives. GBV victims need to report such cases at the police station, where they are assured of their privacy as they seek justice,” CS Jumwa explained. Notably, the CS confirmed that the government has put in place plans to construct and operationalize 20 new safe houses by 2027 in its renewed commitment to ending Sexual Gender-Based Violence (SGBV) in the country.

According to CS Jumwa, while there are more than 54 safe houses nationally, only three are state-owned.

“As a government, we are committed to ensuring that SGBV victims get a safe and conducive environment as they recover and wait to get justice,” Jumwa said. The safe homes, she said, would be constructed through a partnership with the Offices of Woman Representative through the NGAAF kitty to address the protection and rehabilitation of SGBV survivors.

According to the 2022 Kenya Demographic and Health Survey (2022 KDHS), the prevalence of SGBV has declined to 15 percent owing to the heightened campaigns and interventions by various actors to end these violations.

She called on other development partners to collaborate with the state agencies to reduce the 15 percent to zero by 2030.

Kakamega launches new multi-million project to upgrade slum infrastructure

BY MOSES WEKESA(KNA)

The Kakamega County Government has launched a project to upgrade infrastructure in the Amalemba and Kambi Somali slums within Kakamega town.

The Sh116-million World Bank-funded Kenya Informal Settlement Improvement Project (KISIP) will go towards upgrading roads, fixing sewer lines, erecting security lights, and providing access to water.

Governor Fernandes Barasa, who launched the project, thanked the World Bank and the French Development Agency (AFD), and asked KISIP to also work on modalities to ensure that those who live in the project area receive title deeds.

“KISIP has assured us that those who own land in Kambi Somali and Amalemba will receive title deeds, so they can be proud owners of the land,” he added. He welcomed the project, noting that it had been delayed in starting during two previous attempts at proposals in 2013 and 2017.

Kakamega Governor, Fernandes Barasa, speaking at Amalemba grounds, during the launch of the Kenya Informal Settlements Improvement Project (KISIP).

“I urge the contractor to involve residents in the construction works during the project phase,” he added. Governor Barasa said the project comes at a time when the County is implementing a 10-kilometer per ward road construction project that will cost the county government over Sh600 million.

The program also aligns with the county’s shelter improvement program, which aims to construct 360 low-cost decent houses every financial year. “I thank all political leaders with whom we work closely. We can achieve more in empowering our people if we stick together,” he added.

The Governor implored the national government to understand that counties need funds to continue functioning and offering services to residents.

“As counties, we request the national government to release the equitable share of Sh450 billion to support counties to implement development projects.

We rejected the proposal from the National Treasury of Sh391 billion because it does not represent the increase in revenue collection, increase in the inflation and does not also represent the cost of living,” he explained.

The Governor challenged senators to stand up and defend devolution to ensure that enough funds are disbursed to counties to finance development projects.

Speaking at the same event, the County Executive Committee Member-In-Charge of Land, Housing, Urban areas, and Physical Planning, Dr. Mariam Barasa, urged residents in the project area to support contractors and the county government for the project to be completed on time.

KISIP Regional Representative, Engineer Joash Wende, said Kakamega is one of the 28 counties benefiting from the Kenya Informal Settlement Improvement Project, which seeks to improve the living standards of people who live in slums.

He said the Kakamega County Government proposed Amalemba and Kambi Somali slums, to benefit from the World Bank funding project.

“The arrangement is always that the county identifies the projects to be done, and they propose to the funding agency, through the national government since the fund is meant for the county government, but through the national government,” he explained.

“These improvements are meant for Mwananchi who lack the necessary facilities and infrastructure, so it is a good opportunity for all of us to benefit,” he added.

Engineer Wende asked community members to co-operate with the contractors, consultants, and the county government to ensure the successful implementation of the project.

“The project has timelines to complete, it has got standards for quality and has got standards for safety. We don’t want to hear issues of the project, causing damages or injuries or some harm, to people or in the environment,” he said.

He also noted that the County Project Implementation Coordination team and the Settlement Executive Committee (SEC), will be on standby to supervise and monitor the progress of the project.

“As counties, we request the national government to release the equitable share of Sh450B for projects

New State-backed initiative to curb waste menace

Project seeks to minimise waste generation and encourage a circular economy for sustainable development

BY DIBO WILLIS-AMBETSA

Tens of small businesses are set to benefit from a government-backed programme that seeks to enhance sustainable management of waste.

The programme launched last week in Nairobi and dubbed Sustainable Waste Innovation for a Future in Transition (SWIFT) targets small businesses in the country to foster green entrepreneurship and promote a circular economy.

The $5.1 million (Sh767.6 million) initiative is expected to increase investment in nature-based waste management solutions in efforts to safeguard the environment.

Kenya Climate Innovation Centre (KCIC), which implementing the programme, following funding from IKEA foundation said the initiative is a significant step in promoting the circular economy.

The initiative targets five counties namely, Nairobi, Mombasa, Nakuru, Kisumu and Uasin Gishu, in the inaugural phase.

Under the programme, the micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) will receive

"This programme presents a significant opportunity for Kenya to showcase its leadership in sustainable waste management on the global stage," said Eng Festus Ngeno, the PS for Environment and Climate Change.

He observed that by pioneering innovative solutions and fostering collaboration between government, private sector, and civil society, Kenya will position itself as a regional hub for sustainable development and environmental stewardship.

"Together, we can demonstrate to the world that a cleaner, greener future is within our reach," said the PS.

He noted that the initiative leverages strategic partnerships involving the government and counties to drive policy reforms and regulatory enhancements conducive to sustainable waste management practices.

"The SWIFT programme represents a significant milestone in our collective efforts to address the pressing challenges of waste management in Kenya. - Most of the municipal and domestic waste generated is disposed off in open dumpsites.
- Biomedical waste is largely disposed through incineration and rudimentary kilns.
- Challenges in the sector include:
 - › Lack of awareness and knowledge in managing waste.
 - › Political influence and lack of goodwill.
 - › Slow adoption of modern technologies.
 - › Lack of segregation of waste to make it easier to dispose.

benefit from a comprehensive support to catalyse the development of innovative waste management models aligned with circular economy principles.

"The dual role of the programme in addressing environmental concerns and unlocking economic opportunities through innovation is critical. I have a vision of a future where waste becomes a valuable resource," said Joseph Murabula, the CEO of KCIC.

The project promises to create job opportunities, economic growth and a clean environment.

Projections show it will generate over 6,000 direct and indirect jobs and improve the livelihoods of thousands of households boosting socio-economic advancement.

It is expected that the project would generate some Sh1.5 billion from waste management activities that accelerate the transition to a circular economy and drive inclusive green economic growth.

These activities will be aligned to the country's climate goals as outlined in the Kenya Nationally Determined Contributions as well as the Paris Agreement and the Sustainable Development Goals.

In the first year of the initiative, 55 MSMEs, particularly those led by young people and women, will be supported.

The other 55 small businesses will be on boarded onto the programme in the last two years.

Patrick Obonyo, the programme manager at the IKEA Foundation, said collective action will help in addressing waste management challenges and advancing environmental sustainability.

His added that there is need to accelerate Kenya's transition towards a circular economy.

"It is imperative that we adopt a collaborative approach that brings together government, private sector, civil society, and other stakeholders. Only through concerted action can we overcome the complex challenges facing our waste management sector and create a future that is clean, healthy, and sustainable for all," said Ngeno.

Insights from SWIFT will be used to scale-up the initiative and improve the approach to supporting MSMEs in waste management.

Applications for the SWIFT programme remain open to eligible enterprises, said Murabula, as he asked waste management entrepreneurs to take up the opportunity and contribute to the country's goal of attaining sustainable waste management.

According to the National Environmental Management Authority, improper management of waste leads to degradation of the environment and fans climate change.

This is because waste is one of the contributors of greenhouse gases, which lead to global warming and thus climate change.

"It is for this reason that as a country, we should develop sustainable waste management technologies and initiatives to curb this growing global challenge," the agency notes its solid waste management strategy.

The various wastes generated in Kenya can be categorised as domestic, municipal, industrial, hazardous and e-waste. ■

Community health promoters receive Sh3 billion incentive

The health services providers will now begin to get monthly stipends in efforts to motivate them

Some 107,000 community health promoters will start receiving their monthly stipends after the government started the process to pay them, furthering the primary health care agenda.

Deputy President Rigathi Gachagua said the Sh3 billion stipend reimbursement programme will help promote service delivery.

"Today we make a key milestone in our health sector as we launch payment of Sh3 billion stipend to the 107,000 Community Health Promoters (CHPs)," he said.

The initiative, a joint effort between the National Government and its partners, marks a pivotal step towards improving healthcare accessibility and advancing Universal Health Coverage (UHC). It further underscores the critical role played by frontline health workers in transforming service delivery across the nation.

In his address, the Deputy President expressed gratitude to the CHPs for their unwavering dedication over the past four months, emphasising their pivotal role in reaching 2.7 million households since the launch of the Community Health Programme (CHP) in October of 2023. Gachagua hailed these individuals as "Health Heroes," highlighting their instrumental contribution to extending personalised health services to over 13.5 million Kenyans, representing a 25% reach in a remarkably short timeframe.

"As the National Government, we are honouring our commitment of contributing 50% of the stipend to these great men and women. On behalf of our President, Dr William Ruto, we honour you for your vigour and valour, which is changing service delivery to the People. You are our Health Heroes," noted the DP.

The success of the CHP Programme lies in its personalised approach to healthcare delivery. Through the distribution of CHP Kits containing essential screening tools such as Blood Pressure Machines and Glucometers, over 1.56 million Kenyans have been screened for diabetes, with 24,000 referrals made for urgent medical attention.

Similarly, over 1.1 million individuals were screened for hypertension, leading to 50,000 referrals for further care. Additionally, 54,000 expectant mothers underwent screenings, with 24,000 referred to healthcare facilities, ensuring timely interventions and reducing maternal and neonatal mortality rates.

"It is a pragmatic approach by the Ruto Administration to achieving Universal Health Coverage. For the first time, most Kenyans at the Bottom of the socio-economic pyramid can see a health service provider in their homes. We are on course to delivering on Universal Health Coverage as envisioned under the Kenya Kwanza Plan," added the DP.

The holistic impact of the CHP Programme extends beyond healthcare provision. By investing in community and facility-based primary healthcare, the government aims to address the root causes of health-induced poverty while promoting economic prosperity.

"We know that Primary Health Care is a People-centred approach for promotive, preventative, curative and rehabilitative services. With early detection of diseases and other health conditions, Afya Nyumbani is putting our Nation on the path to reducing the cycle of health-induced poverty," added the second in command.

The DP emphasised the importance of ensuring universal access to quality healthcare to prevent families from falling into poverty due to exorbitant medical expenses noting, "We want to stop Kenyans from sinking into poverty because quality healthcare is unaffordable to low-income households in a country where only about one in four people have a health insurance cover. It is also estimated that our people are spending over Sh150 billion in out-of-pocket treatment."

However, the realisation of UHC requires collaborative efforts from both the National and County Governments. The DP called upon counties to fulfil their obligations in sustaining the CHP Programme, reiterating that quality healthcare is not merely a privilege but a constitutional right that must be upheld through joint endeavours.

As the nation continues its journey towards a healthier and more prosperous future, cooperation between government entities, stakeholders, and communities will be paramount in realising the shared vision of accessible, affordable, and high-quality healthcare services for all. ■

The A-Z of dog business

Howls, barks, groans... those are the sounds that greet you as you enter Cyrus Maina's home in Kirigiti, Kiambu County. The home is a dogs' paradise, where Rottweilers, Boerboels, German Shepherds, White Swiss Shepherds, Pugs, St Bernards, Belgian Malinois, Maltese and Russian mountain dogs and Blackhounds, among other breeds, thrive. Maina, a dog breeder, has been in the business since 1985. His love for dogs, however, started sometime in 1976 when he was a small boy living in Nyahururu with his parents. Over the years, while he has also played football for Ulinzi Stars, coached division one teams and sold timber in Gikomba, Nairobi, his first love has remained dogs. He is one of the top dog breeders in the country as his animals are highly sought after by corporate clients like G4S and Brinks Security. According to him, one can never live a dog's life if he engages in the business, which has seen his children through school – to the university level. Maina breaks it down

Your love story with dogs goes how far...

Yes, as far as 1976 actually when I was a small boy living in Nyahururu. A priest at Nyahururu Catholic Church known as Fr Lewis noticed the interest I had in dogs and gave me a German shepherd puppy. That ignited my passion.

How many dogs do you have?

There are 42 mature dogs currently at my home. They were more but I have sold some and leased out others.

Describe your typical day...

My day starts at 5am with an inspection to confirm that all the dogs are well. Then I prepare a schedule for the day, including their meals and walks in the neighbourhood. The schedule guides my two workers on what to do. The workers are trained on first aid so that they attend to emergencies in case they arise. Most of the time I leave my home at 9am to train dogs at people's homes or institutions

How much does one need to start such a business?

With Sh20,000, one is good to go but it's good to have some knowledge about the business and have passion for it.

Tell us about dog breeding...

In breeding dogs, you work with what is known as "working line". These are dogs with stronger qualities such as powerful muscles and are purposely selected for breeding. This means the breeder should know their animals well.

Some people say it's hard knowing when a female dog (bitch) is on heat...

It can be if one does not know how to detect the heat signs. The obvious sign is bleeding from the vulva and others licking the back end more than usual or being over friendly to other dogs. I mate the dogs once I detect blood. Three to six mating sessions are enough to make the female pregnant.

How does a quality working line look like?

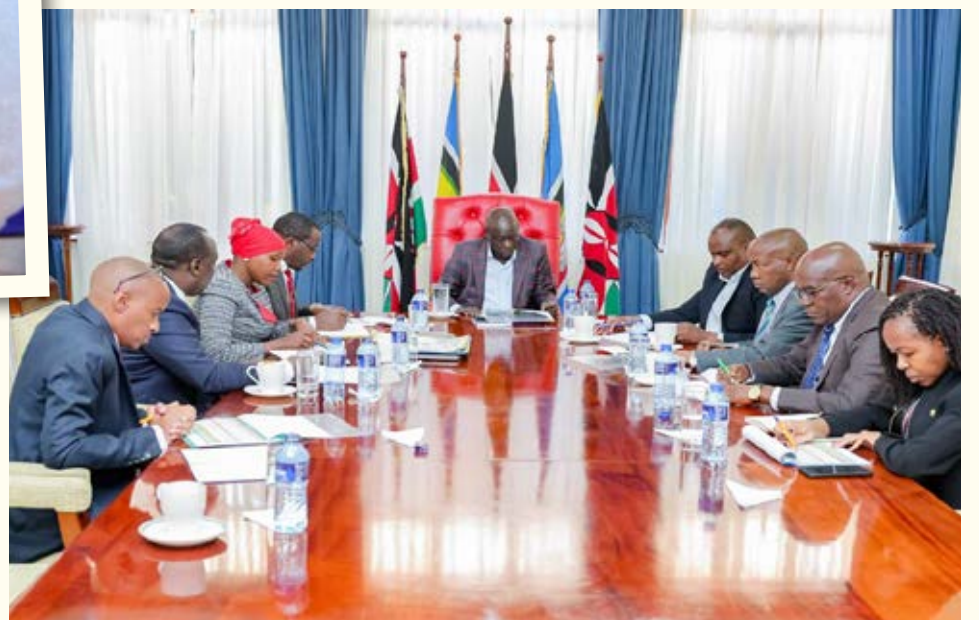

In the case of German shepherds, a good quality working line will have medium-sized animals, with good quality fur, temperament and body structure. These are the ones I use for breeding purposes. To avoid inbreeding, I change males every two years.

Government initiates project to boost pastoralists' economies in 21 counties

BY MICHAEL OMONDI (KNA)

The Government is keenly following up on the de-risking, inclusion, and value enhancement of the pastoralists' economies project to help uplift farmers' welfare in 21 ASAL (arid and semi-arid lands) counties.

This will be achieved by cushioning the economies from drought risk, increasing financial inclusion of the pastoralists, and connecting them to the market.

According to the Government Spokesperson Isaac Mwaura, the benefiting Counties include Turkana, Marsabit, Isiolo, Laikipia, Mandera, Wajir, Garissa, Tana River, Taita Taveta, Kilifi, Kwale, Lamu, Meru (Meru North Sub-County), Tharaka Nithi, Samburu, Baringo, West Pokot, Narok, Kajiado, Makueni, and Kitui.

Speaking during a press briefing at the Kenyatta International Convention Centre (KICC) in Nairobi, Mwaura added that the project, which was started in October 2022 and runs through to 2027, also seeks to facilitate livestock trade across the Horn of Africa (HOA) countries and to upgrade livestock value chains by mobilizing private investments.

"It has financial support from the World Bank with Kenya being supported by a credit of Sh16.082 billion," he declared.

He noted that the project component entails pasture and fodder production and conservation, livestock breeding covering Dorper, Sahiwal, Boran, and Galla goats among others.

Other components include livestock finishing through the institution of feedlots and fattening, establishment of abattoirs or slaughterhouses for facilitation of meat production and processing for both local and international markets.

Leather tannery and processing and value addition on the livestock and its products including livestock feed processing are other components.

So far, the project has attained numerous milestones in the target counties for instance, the number of pastoralists and their dependents covered by the financial services stands at 696,642, and a total of Sh1,620,293,803 has been paid out as insurance claims payouts to the beneficiaries, Dr. Mwaura said.

Mwaura added that the project has also seen 107,492 individual pastoralists and 411,123 of their tropical livestock insured, noting that an amount of Sh6,000 per beneficiary has been paid as an enrolment saving bonus bringing the total bonus payout to Sh492,090,000.

"The project has also sought to empower the female gender as the percentage of women supported and who own bank accounts increased from baseline of 33 per cent to 108 per cent," he remarked.

The Government Spokesperson observed that the project has also created several jobs as proven by the 163,578 digital accounts in use under the project.

State vows crackdown on illegal powdered milk flooding local market

The Kenya Dairy Board is warning traders against dealing with illegal powdered milk flooding the local market, pushing dairy farmers to incur losses. The government vows not to relent on cracking down on these illicit imports. Speaking in Korakora Division in Garissa County during an inspection tour of a local milk processing plant, Kenya Dairy Board chairperson Genesio Mugo stated that currently, no permits have been issued to import powdered milk into the country.

"I want to state clearly that there is no permit to import powdered milk into the country because we want to create a market for our local milk from camels, cows, and goats. After all, the illegal milk is taking away our local milk market share," Mugo emphasized. "We want Kenyans to consume our milk and not the ones from other countries. We have powdered milk from our local companies like KCC, and more invest-tors are coming to set up milk powdering plants to fill in the gaps we may have," he added.

Mugo reiterated that with the recent rains, the country can produce enough milk for local consumption. The Board's Managing Director, Margaret Kibogy, stated that currently, the Board is focusing on non-traditional milk-producing counties like Garissa and has already conducted training for farmers and other stakeholders to increase dairy farming knowledge.

"Milk consumption in this area is very high, and we have decided to expand our 'footprint' here by setting up offices so that we can enhance our services and get closer to our stakeholders," Kibogy said.

On the illegal powder milk, the MD said they are working with a multi-agency team to crack down on illegal products and ensure that local farmers and consumers are protected.

KVDA sinks 2 boreholes in Samburu West Sub County

Over 18,000 residents of Samburu West Sub-County and their 35,000 livestock will now have access to clean water after the Kerio Valley Development Authority (KVDA) sunk two boreholes as part of the national government's Drought Mitigation Program.

Speaking during the commissioning of the two boreholes, KVDA Managing Director Sammy Naporos said that the initiative was part of long-term measures to alleviate acute water shortage in the area.

Naporos noted that the boreholes at Nontoto Arus village, which will pump water via solar power, have a capacity of 30,000 liters per hour, while the other one at Garma village will pump 9,000 liters per hour, providing water to nearby schools and residents.

"Samburu is one of the counties with the lowest access to water in Kenya, and these water projects will boost food security through the creation of kitchen gardens, improve access to education, and reduce conflict with neighboring communities," he said.

Naporos added that through KVDA, the national government has pumped Sh130 million towards 12 water projects in Samburu West and Samburu North Sub-Counties. "Two projects are complete, while another two are ongoing, and we are in the process of tendering the remaining eight to be completed by June 2024," he said.

At the same time, the MD encouraged the residents to sustain the projects through the already formed borehole committees and ensure water flows for years to come.

Pamela Lekuku, a resident of Nontoto Arus village, welcomed the projects saying that life has been made easy for the women who used to travel for miles to fetch one jery can of water. "We used to travel for over 20 kilometers under the scorching sun but not anymore," an elated Lekuku said.

New Social Health Insurance Fund to significantly lower cost of health care

BY ANNE MWALE (KNA)

The new Social Health Insurance Fund (SHIF) would significantly lower the cost of health care for poor households in the country.

The Social Health Authority (SHA) has indicated that a raft of regulations to govern SHIF would address the limitations observed in the National Hospital Insurance Fund (NHIF) by prioritizing equitable access to quality, affordable, and comprehensive health care for all.

Speaking at the Rift Valley Regional Commissioner's plenary hall in Nakuru during a public participation on the draft Social Health Insurance (General) Regulations, 2023, SHA Chairman Dr. Timothy Olweny disclosed that Kenyans would start contributing to SHIF next month following a court ruling that gave a Social Health Authority (SHA) Chairman Dr Timothy Olweny. He has disclosed that Kenyans will start contributing to the Social Health Insurance Fund (SHIF) next month following a court ruling that gave a green light on its implementation green light on its implementation.

He explained that besides addressing basic health services, SHIF encompasses a wide range of healthcare services, ensuring that Kenyans have access to quality healthcare across various medical needs.

NHIF has a total of 15.4 million members. Out of this, only 6.7 million are active members. In the 2021/2022 financial year, NHIF collected a total of Sh61.53 billion from its members.

The 57-year-old NHIF is set to be disbanded and replaced by the Social Health Authority thanks to the Social Health Insurance Bill of 2023. Under the new SHIF, health benefits will be accessed in all facilities accredited by SHA and licensed by the Medical Council.

"SHA will offer services in public facilities, faith-based, and private facilities. SHA will pay standardized tariffs to all hospitals, including private and public ones. People will be free to choose which facilities to access, but those looking for high-end facilities might have to top up for additional services," Dr Olweny said.

For example, those paying Sh300 and those paying more than Sh1 million will be able to access equal services under SHA.

"SHA will not have a mix of schemes that are going to be run. It is one package for everyone regardless of contribution. This is the principle of SHA," said Dr Olweny.

He observed that the inclusion of services such as screening, drug rehabilitation, mental health support demonstrate the government's commitment to providing holistic healthcare coverage.
